

Update on Timeline for Release of 2020 Census Redistricting Data and Impact On Upcoming CVRA Deadlines

February 12, 2021
Number 4

As stated in our February 2021 Client News Brief (link here), the impact of COVID-19 caused the Census Bureau to delay delivery of the 2020 Census apportionment data to the states.

Written by:

Michael E. Smith
Partner
Fresno and Bakersfield

As an update, the Bureau recently announced that it will deliver the redistricting data to all states by September 30, 2021. This is two months later than previously expected, and six months later than the statutorily contemplated deadline. This delay will impact many public agencies as they begin preparing to address the legal obligations and timelines arising from the release of this data. (Please see our previous CNB for more information regarding these obligations.)

Ryan P. Tung
Senior Counsel
Los Angeles & Walnut Creek

For further information, please contact one of the authors of this Client News Brief or an attorney at one of our eight offices located statewide. You can also subscribe to our podcast, follow us on Facebook, Twitter and LinkedIn or download our mobile app.

Jonathan E. Berry-Smith
Associate
Walnut Creek

As the information contained herein is necessarily general, its application to a particular set of facts and circumstances may vary. For this reason, this News Brief does not constitute legal advice. We recommend that you consult with your counsel prior to acting on the information contained herein.